Subject: Confirmation of Invited Lecture

To whom it may concern,

I, Professor Claudia Roda, hereby confirm and affirm that on March 31, 2023, Ljubisa Bojic delivered an online invited lecture at the American University of Paris (AUP).

The title of the lecture was "Recommender Systems as Public Good". During this talk, Ljubisa Bojic thoroughly discussed the potential benefits, challenges, and implications of utilizing recommender systems for the betterment of society. The lecture was well-received by our students, faculty, and invited guests, and contributed to a deeper understanding of the current advancements and future directions in this area of research.

As a professor at AUP, I wholeheartedly endorse Ljubisa Bojic's contribution to our academic community. The lecture was insightful and thought-provoking, and it has spurred further discussions and intellectual curiosity among our students.

Please, accept this document as a confirmation of Ljubisa Bojic's successful presentation of the invited lecture at our institution.

Should you have any questions or require additional confirmation, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Claudia Roda
